Praxis Framework™
Integrating Project And Programme Management

Praxis Framework training and certification - equivalent to three alternative courses

The Praxis Framework has been specifically designed to integrate project, programme and portfolio management.

The framework takes the principles of existing, proven guides and adapts them so that users are not required to learn a different approach for project, programme and portfolio management.

This integration drives improvements in communication and delivery and enhances capability across the project, programme and portfolio management layers.

Users of the Praxis Framework also benefit from a rich online library of resources drawn from published experts and practical experience from the practitioner community.

One Integrated View

The Praxis Framework training program focuses on the processes and knowledge areas of the project and programme management layers within the framework. The training also covers important interpersonal skills and the key interfaces with portfolio management.

Streamlining learning and application - The integration across the 3Ps ensures consistency and removes repetition commonly covered by separate guides and courses.

Target audience

Current and aspiring project and programme managers, those looking to build on existing best practices, such as project and programme management office (PMO), and Centre of Excellence managers and staff. This program is also relevant to other key staff involved in projects, programmes and portfolios including: sponsors, business change managers, team managers, assurance and support staff.

3 DAY PRAXIS FRAMEWORK FOUNDATION COURSE

By the completion of the training a participant will be able to understand:
➡ The Praxis Framework in a project, programme and portfolio environment
➡ Project and programme lifecycle phases and the use of associated roles, processes and documents
➡ Important interpersonal skills to support working in a project and programme
➡ Project and programme management functions and specific techniques required for effective management

The Foundation course covers:
➡ The context of the Praxis Framework in a project, programme and portfolio environment
➡ Characteristics and core elements of project and programme management
➡ Characteristics of an agile project
➡ Project, programme and portfolio lifecycles, with their associated roles, documents and processes
➡ The importance and characteristics of sponsorship, knowledge management and capability development
➡ The interpersonal skills and management functions for successful project and programme delivery and associated management models, tools and techniques

2 DAY PRAXIS FRAMEWORK PRACTITIONER COURSE

This program builds on the knowledge gained at Foundation level, by providing participants further understanding on tailoring and applying the Praxis Framework to an organisation's projects or programmes. The program is also designed to prepare participants for the Praxis Framework Practitioner exam, which is completed at the end of the program. Passing the Foundation exam is a pre-requisite to completing the Practitioner exam.

3 DAY PRAXIS FRAMEWORK BRIDGING COURSE

This course allows those holding the following certifications to complete the Practitioner level without needing to complete the Foundation level first: PRINCE2, PMP, MSP, APM PFQ or PMQ, IPMA Level D (or equivalent). The Bridging Course is specifically designed for those who have previously undertaken training and have an above-mentioned certification, but are seeking a more integrated framework. The course covers the similarities and differences between the Praxis Framework and other prominent approaches. It aims to bridge any knowledge gaps between the Praxis Framework and other certifications, whilst also preparing participants for the Praxis Framework Practitioner exam. The Practitioner exam is completed at the end of this program.
